

COVID-19 MBS Psychiatry Telehealth Services Frequently Asked Questions

Last updated: 27 April 2021

- Commencing 13 March 2020 and extending until 31 December 2021, temporary MBS telehealth items have been made available to help reduce the risk of community transmission of COVID-19 and provide protection for patients and health care providers.
- A service may only be provided by telehealth where it is safe and clinically appropriate to do so.
- The temporary services are for out-of-hospital patients.
- All providers are expected to obtain informed financial consent from patients prior to charging private fees for COVID-19 telehealth services.
- Please refer to the 'Provider Frequently Asked Questions' on MBS Online for general information on eligibility, telehealth arrangements, referrals, bulk-billing and claiming, and assignment of benefits.
- Please note that this information is accurate as of this date. This is an evolving situation and it is possible that some of this information could change in response to the circumstances. Please continue to check MBS Online regularly for any further announcements.

Why are the changes being made?

As part of the Australian Government's response to COVID-19, twenty-eight (28) telehealth items for consultant psychiatrists have been introduced to ensure continued access to essential health services for all Australians. The temporary telehealth MBS services have been introduced as a short-term measure to allow people to access essential health services in their homes and reduce their risk of exposure to COVID-19.

Videoconference services are the preferred approach for substituting a face-to-face consultation. However, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, providers will also be able to offer audio-only services via telephone if video is not available. There are separate items available for the audio-only services.

Which new temporary MBS telehealth items can psychiatrists access?

- 1 videoconference item (92434) and 1 new telephone item (92474) to prepare a treatment and management plan for patients under 13 years with autism or another pervasive development disorder
- 1 videoconference item (92435) and 1 new telephone item (92475) to prepare a GP management plan

Can I use the new temporary MBS telehealth psychiatry initial attendance item in place of existing item 296?

Yes. The temporary telehealth MBS items mirror existing item 296 for new patients or patients who have not received a professional attendance from the provider in the preceding 24 months, providing they meet the item descriptor requirements.

Can I use the new temporary MBS telehealth psychiatry attendance time-tiered items for existing patients in place of the existing psychiatry MBS items?

Yes. The temporary telehealth MBS items mirror existing time-tiered psychiatry face-to-face attendance items available under the MBS.

Providers should claim the MBS item which best describes the service that they have rendered. If the item requirements have been met, practitioners are able to bill the new MBS items.

Providers should use their clinical judgement to determine if a service is clinically relevant. A clinically relevant service is one that is generally accepted by the relevant profession as necessary for the appropriate treatment of the patient.

Can psychiatrists use the new temporary MBS telehealth psychiatry items for patients who have had more than 50 sessions per calendar year (e.g. in place of items 310, 312, 314, 316, 318)?

Yes. To support patients, the service limits that apply to existing psychiatry services do not currently apply to the new temporary telehealth psychiatry services. Patients who have received more than 50 attendances under existing standard psychiatry attendance items are eligible to receive services under the new telehealth psychiatry items, provided they meet the item descriptor requirements.

Are patients receiving treatment under existing MBS item 319 eligible to receive services under the new temporary MBS telehealth psychiatry items if they have exceeded 50 sessions per calendar year?

Yes. To support patients, the temporary MBS telehealth psychiatry items do not have a limit on the number of services provided. Patients who have received more than 50 attendances under MBS item 319 are eligible to receive services under the new telehealth psychiatry items, provided they meet the item descriptor requirements.

What are the claiming requirements for the new temporary MBS telehealth preparation and review of GP management plan services?

The MBS telehealth preparation and review of GP management plan items have the same diagnosis, assessment and record-keeping requirements as the existing face-to-face MBS items (291 and 293). Please refer to MBS Explanatory Note AN.0.30 for further information.

Does the limit of 4 services per calendar year under existing MBS item 352 apply to the new temporary MBS telehealth item?

Yes. All existing item descriptor requirements apply to the MBS telehealth interview items. Please refer to Explanatory Notes AN.0.5 and AN.0.32 for further information.

Can I co-claim the existing telehealth incentive item 288 in conjunction with an attendance for a new temporary MBS telehealth item?

No. The temporary MBS telehealth MBS items are stand-alone items. The new temporary items are to be used where services are provided via videoconference or telephone.

Can I co-claim the new temporary MBS telehealth items with existing telepsychiatry items?

No. The temporary MBS telehealth items are stand-alone items. Existing telepsychiatry items may not be co-claimed with the new temporary items.

What are the claiming requirements for the new temporary MBS telehealth eating disorder treatment and management plan services?

The MBS telehealth eating disorder treatment and management plan items have the same patient eligibility, model of care and record-keeping requirements as the existing face-to-face MBS items. Please refer to MBS Explanatory Notes AN.36.1 and AN.36.2 for further information.

Can I use the new temporary MBS telehealth items to treat patients who are admitted to a hospital?

No. Admitted patients (whether as part of an episode of hospital treatment or hospital substitute treatment) are not eligible for services under the new MBS items.

Can I use the new temporary MBS telehealth items to treat patients if I am a practitioner who is admitted to hospital?

No. Admitted patients (whether as part of an episode of hospital treatment or hospital substitute treatment) are not eligible for services under the temporary MBS telehealth items. Medicare rebates are not payable for video or telephone attendances if the practitioner is an admitted patient.

There are other psychiatry MBS items that are not mirrored by new temporary MBS telehealth items? Will they be added to the list of new items?

There is a process underway to review all specialist consultation items, including psychiatry, to identify any further items that are clinically appropriate for patient care to add to the current list of temporary MBS telehealth items.

This is an evolving situation and the list of items and information for providers is being updated regularly. Please continue to check the MBS Online website for any further announcements.
